

Gold Service Standards and Guarantee

eDOC Innovations provides technical support and services to our active, licensed customers, as part of the software license agreement. Our support is not a substitute for your internal technical support staff. However, we do offer additional technical support through our e la carte services. Pricing for these services can be found HERE.

Our support service standards require that the individual requesting support has: 1) a basic understanding and the details of the problem being reported; 2) knows your organization's policies, procedures and practices; 3) possesses an understanding of your system's architecture; 4) access to the hardware where the software is installed; 5) login credentials as an administrator; and, 6) the ability to request additional help from your organization's technical support staff. If the person contacting support does not have the above resources at the time of the support call, we may not be able to resolve your issue. The technical support provided as part of your software license is not available on company holidays. A list of company holidays can be found HERE.
